I saw my lady weep- ing,

20 25

And sor-row proud to be ad- van- ced so In 30 35

those fair eyes, in those fair eyes where all per- fec- tions kept. Her face was full of woe, But such a woe, believe me, as wins more hearts Than mirth can do,

40 45

50 55 60

than mirth can do with her en- ti- cing parts.
