

Shall I come if I swim

Philip Rosseter

Shall I come if I swim? Wide are the waves you see.
You are fair, so was He-ro that in Ses-tos dwelt.

5

Shall I come if I fly, my dear love, to thee?
She a priest, yet the heat of love tru-ly felt;

Streams Ve-nus will ap-pease, Cu-pid gives me
A great-er stream than this did her love di-wings; All the pow'rs as-sist my de-sire Save you a-vide, But she was his guide with a light; So through the lone, that set my woe-ful heart on fire.

streams Le-an-der did en-joy her sight.
