

9. Beauty sat bathing

William Corkine

Beauty sat bathing
In-to a slumber

5

by a spring, where fairest shades did hide her. The then I fell, but fond imagination seem'd

10

winds blew calm, the birds did sing the cool streams to see, but could not tell her feature ran or be-her side her. My wan- ton or her shion. but e'en as 15

thoughts in- tic'd mine eye to see what was for- bid- den, babes in dreams do smile and some- time fall a weep- ing:

1) e r e r

20

but bet- ter me- mo- ry said fie, fie, fie, fie, so I a- wak'd as wise the while, as wise, as wise,

2) e e b r

fie, fie, fie, fie, fie, fie, fie, fie, fie, so vain de- sire was as wise the while, as wise the while as when I fell a 25

chid- den, so vain de- sire was chid- den.
 sleep- ing, as when I fell a sleep- ing.

r e b r e e r

1) a in orig. clashes with next bass note.

2) c in orig.