

2. Truth-trying Time

William Corkine

Truth- try- ing Time shall cause my mis- tress say, my You gods of love, who oft heard my de- sires, pre-

love was per- fect, con- tent as the day:
 pare her heart, by your love charm- ing fires,

And as the day when eve- ning doth ap- pear, doth to think on those sweet re- vels, peace- ful sights, ne'er suf-fer chang-ing doom to cus-tom, be taught or foul or clear, as nup-tual rites.

so shall my last be-quest make known to all, my O guer-don-ize my pray-ers but with this, that love in her did rise, did live, did fall.

I may taste of that long wish'd- for bliss.
