

16. Shall a smile or guileful glance William Corkine

5

Shall a smile or a guileful glance, or a sigh that is but Shall I sell my freedom so, being now from love re-
 Must she fall, and I must stand? Must she fly, and I purfeign- ed, shall but tears that come by chance make me dote, that mi- sed? Shall I learn (what I do know to my cost) that sue her? Must I give her heart and land and for nought with 15

10

20

was dis- dain- ed? No, I will no more be chain- ed.
 love's dis- guis- ed? No, I will be more ad- vis- ed.
 them en- due her? No, first I will find her tru- er.