

16. Down a down

Francis Pilkington

5

Canto

Down a down, down a down. Thus Phyl-lis sung, by fan-cy once op-

Lute

pres-ed. Who so by fool-ish love are stung, are wor-thi- ly dis-tress-ed. And so sing

10

I, and so sing I. With a down, with a down, with a down, with a down

15

a down a down. When Love was first be- got and by the mo- ther's
But dur- ing this ac- cord, a won- der strange to

20 Verse

a down a down. When Love was first be- got and by the mo- ther's
But dur- ing this ac- cord, a won- der strange to

[25]

will did fall to hu- man lot, his so lace to ful- fill. De- void of all de-hear: Whilst love, in deed and word, most faith- ful did ap- pear, false sem- blance came in

1)

[30]

ceit, a chaste and ho- ly fire did quick- en man's con- ceit and place, by jeal- ou- sy at- tend- ed, and, with a dou- ble face, both wo- men's breast in- spire. The gods that saw the good that mor- tals did ap-love and fan- cy blen- ded. Which made the gods for- sake, and men from fan- cy prove, with kind and ho- ly mood be- gan to talk of love.

[35]

[40]

fly, and maid- ens scorn a mate (for- sooth), and so will I

ā

1) Open course in orig., but see bass part.